

Teacher Guide to Collaboration – Second Lesson

This lesson includes two different activities that will help students to understand the skill of collaboration, as well as applying this skill to a career in Skilled Trades.

The first activity is on Slide 9 is titled “Lesson #2” as “Leadership Handout (3).” Each student will be given a handout, and the objective is for them to review the descriptions and choose one that they do. In the space below the description, they are to describe how they do that activity – whether it is working alone, with a partner or on a team. Once students are finished, they can get in small groups of two or three and discuss their answers.

To end the lesson, students will complete a small research project. Give one “Occupations Handout (4)” to each student and have them select one of the occupations from the list and research how workers in that job collaborate with others. This is to be completed independently.
